Surround Seventeenth Annual Homecoming

The 1966 Homecoming was one to be remembered. Besides the crowning of two queens, tragedy played a part in the annual event when the Senior class float was destroyed by fire.

A pep assembly held in the gym at 1:00 P.M. kicked off the day's activities. Following the judging of the floats, the P.H.H.S. Band led the colorful parade. It was at 18th and Union Streets that the Senior float caught fire and burned. The driver, Mike Kelley, escaped without injury. The parade continued to the downtown area.

Spirits were high as students crowded into Memorial Stadium. Winning floats and decorated cars were shown during the pre-game activities. The football game got underway at 8:00 P.M.

The 1966 Homecoming Court was introduced during halftime. The halftime activities reached a climax when Bill Himes, Student Council President, announced the co-queens, Cathy Ort and Delores Thorton. The two girls received their crowns and roses and reigned over the dance which followed the game.

Homecoming, the biggest event of the fall, had been exciting despite the fact that the Big Reds were defeated 37-7 by the Roseville Wildcats.

1966 Court

A suspense-filled Homecoming came to a climax when Cathy Ort and Delores Thorton were crowned co-queens. This was the first time in seventeen years that two girls had ever been chosen to reign together over Homecoming.

The search for a queen and her court began on September 27, when ten girls were nominated from each class. These girls were presented to the student body two days later in an assembly. After this assembly, the underclassmen chose two girls from their respective classes to serve on the Queen's Court. This year, for the first time, the Seniors chose three candidates for queen.

On October 5, the student body chose their Homecoming Queens. The voting results were announced during the halftime ceremonies of the football game after each of the nine candidates were introduced.

After the game, the two queens and their court reigned over the Homecoming Dance. The Collegiates entertained at this annual dance.

P.H.H.S. Band Tours with Gov. Romney

On the morning of Saturday October 1st, the Port Huron High School Band accompanied Governor Romney on a campaign tour through seven river district cities. The excited band members boarded their three chartered buses at 8:00 a.m. With a police escort, they traveled to several cities, including Port Huron, where they played in parades. After a hearty lunch at a local restaurant, they again boarded their buses and headed for Capac and Yale. Goodells Fair Grounds was the last stop of the day where our band held a concert closing out the days festivities. The tired band students then climbed aboard their buses and headed for home.

Presents "Moon Over Madrid"

"Moon Over Madrid" was the theme of the J-Hop presented by the Class of '67. On April 29, 1966 the Steering Committee and Class members transformed the gymnasium into a romantic Spanish setting. Bob Schneider and the Collegiates provided the dancing music for the evening.

The decorations for the dance included chalked murals on the bleachers and walls, a Gazebo in which the band played, and a colorful water fountain. These decorations were planned and supervised by committee chairmen: Sharon McDuff, Karen Hunt, and Michael Kelly.

The Refreshment Committee was headed by Sally Friedland and Kathy Swainson. Jane O'Sullivan and Anna Marie Gauthier were in charge of programs and Irene Bopp and Susan Gentry were co-chairmen of the Ticket Committee.

ROBERT BARKER, LAURIE Kendrick, and Elizabeth Edwards decide to relax over a glass of punch.

Make the Magazine Sale a Success

The twenty-second annual magazine sale, sponsored by the Quality School Plan, Inc., began with a kick-off assembly held on March 8. At that time, Mr. Joe Shields instructed the students on selling techniques.

For many weeks preceding the magazine sale the second semester Student Council members had been busy planning for it. A goal of $8500 was set by the Council. They also divided into eight separated committees each having a chairman.

The prize committee, headed by Sharon Kota, chose the ten grand prizes. They were: a portable T.V., a tandem bicycle, a $100 United States Savings Bond, 50 silver dollars, a girl's $45 gift certificate to Winkleman's, a men's $45 gift certificate to George Innes Men's Wear, a man's or woman's wrist watch, a clock radio, a $25 gift certificate to Jerry Ritter's, and a Polaroid Swinger camera.

These grand prizes along with smaller money prizes and sleepy dogs were presented to the high salesmen at an awards assembly on March 27, one week after the end of the sale. This year's profits were tentatively scheduled to be used to build a new student lounge and to keep its furnishings up-to-date in the following years.

Through this examination he finds that his interests may be satisfied through numerous school activities. The desire to form a balanced personality is fulfilled through the Student Council.

Here a student was chosen by his fellow students to represent them in developing a mature and cooperative attitude in meeting student body problems as a whole.

The variety of projects completed by the Student Council showed their interest in the entire Student Body. The group coordinated activities for the 1966 Homecoming. They also appropriated money for the purchase of new cheerleader uniforms.

The language department of Port Huron High School has added two new courses this year. For the first time, "Sprechen Sie Deutsch?" can be heard around the halls, for German had caught the interest of many students. The basic fundamentals of grammar and the country's culture were studied. The other new language course offered was third year French. The emphasis was on speaking, and research papers were written.

We Learn the Skills of the

A variety of business courses were offered to students each year. They have helped students to learn more about the business world. In office practice, students learned how to operate machines used in an office. In shorthand, a skill of faster writing was practiced. In typing class, students first learned the basic procedures then worked on speed. In bookkeeping, office records of businesses were kept as the main activity.

In general business classes, beginning office procedures and general business skills were studied. Students also went on a field trip to a local bank to observe the different procedures and various parts of the bank. In retailing, students worked on merchandising and out of pamphlets. All these courses have helped students to prepare for future business occupations.

MARSHA FALK STANDS at the bulletin board explaining the political, economical, and social situations in Miss Lavoy's 6th hour civics class.

The social studies department received new equipment this year to aid the students in understanding our democracy better. This included many movies for the American government classes that explained topics as they were studied in the new PROBLEMS IN DEMOCRACY textbook. Opaque projectors were used for other social studies courses to illustrate topics. The National Defense Education Act helped the department pay for this new equipment.

A new one semester world history course has been offered to ninth graders this past semester. This enables students to have one and a half years of world history during high school.

The English department has cooperated with this department in the past by offering American literature along with American history in the eleventh grade. These were both required courses. By having them together, students learned the history of our country along with the literature of our country. This proved to be a helpful combination.

ANNA MARIE GAUTHIER explains the day-by-day growth of Tektronix stock which Mr. Boyse's fifth hour economics class purchased while studying the New York Stock Exchange. # New Paperback Books Add Diversity to English

HILLARY ROBINSON TAKES a last minute look at his assignment in the library before his next hour American literature class.

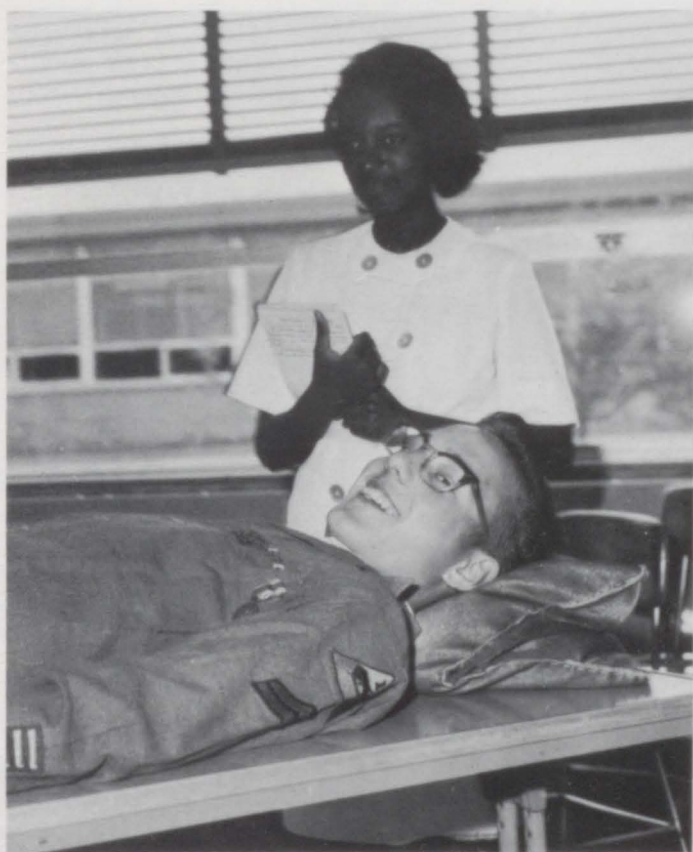

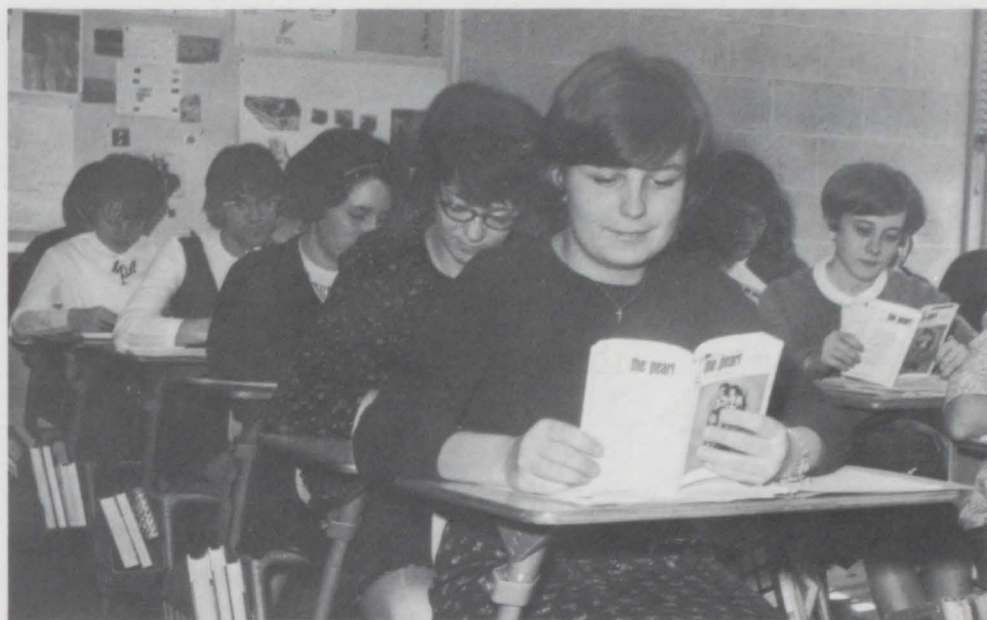

This year the English department tried many new techniques in English courses. In tenth grade English classes, paperbacks were used along with a new text, "Composition Models and Exercises." The paperbacks, which supplemented the class textbook throughout the year, were purchased for two dollars. A variety of records, tapes, and movies were used in literature classes to bring out the interesting points of the course. The National Defense Education Act helped supply this equipment. The movies were used in almost every English class since they helped the students understand the subject in further detail. A new addition to the English department this year was the reading lab. It helped further the reading techniques of students and increase their speed and vocabulary.

This year, for the first time, there was a beginning journalism class. In preparing for work on the LIGHTHOUSE the students were taught the basic skills of reporting, writing, and editing news stories.

Besides writing the monthly paper, the advanced journalism class reviewed techniques of news and feature writing and studied the makeup of a newspaper. They examined city papers as well as newspapers from other high schools. Both advanced and beginning classes wrote news stories for the Port Huron Times Herald Junior.

The LIGHTHOUSE is a member of the Quill and Scroll Society, Michigan Interscholastic Press Association, and Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Elective Courses Widen English Curriculum

World Literature, Drama, and Speech were three of the elective English courses at Port Huron High School.

The students in World Literature did most of their studies through the use of paperbacks and filmstrips. Drama class also worked with paperbacks. Drama produced one play and attended several performances of others, both amateur and professional.

Both courses attempted to acquaint students with periods of literature as well as the different types and authors of famous literature.

This year World Literature and Drama classes received an overhead projector, tape recorder, and many records.

Speech was designed not only for fun and laughter, but it also helped students to overcome the fear of talking to a group of people and just everyday speaking. Students gave speeches on a wide variety of topics--from how to bake a cake to how to stuff a rat! Speech was an elective class for either one or two semesters.

STUFFING A RAT is Lyle Cataline's topic for a demonstration speech in Mrs. Knowles' class.

Homemaking: A Broader Look into the Future

Changes in both class content and class members occurred in the Homemaking Department this year. For the first time, Vocational Homemaking was offered to Seniors. The class taught skills which would help students to get jobs in the food service industries. Four boys broke the tradition of "girls only" in Homemaking. They added a master chef touch to the Foods Class.

Homemaking courses were designed to fit the needs of each student. Home and Family Living especially attempted to do this. The class covered such topics as dating, selecting a marriage partner, making a marriage successful, and, in general, understanding themselves better. The students did not use a regular textbook; instead they took advantage of the wealth of material available in magazines and library books on specific topics.

Some new equipment was added to the department to keep it up-to-date. Clothing students received six new sewing machines. Foods Classes used new double boilers and smaller equipment.

Mystery of Numbers

Mathematics proved itself to be the "gate and key of the sciences." The study helped students develop the ability to reason and think logically. The mystery of numbers occupied hundred's of students during their study time.

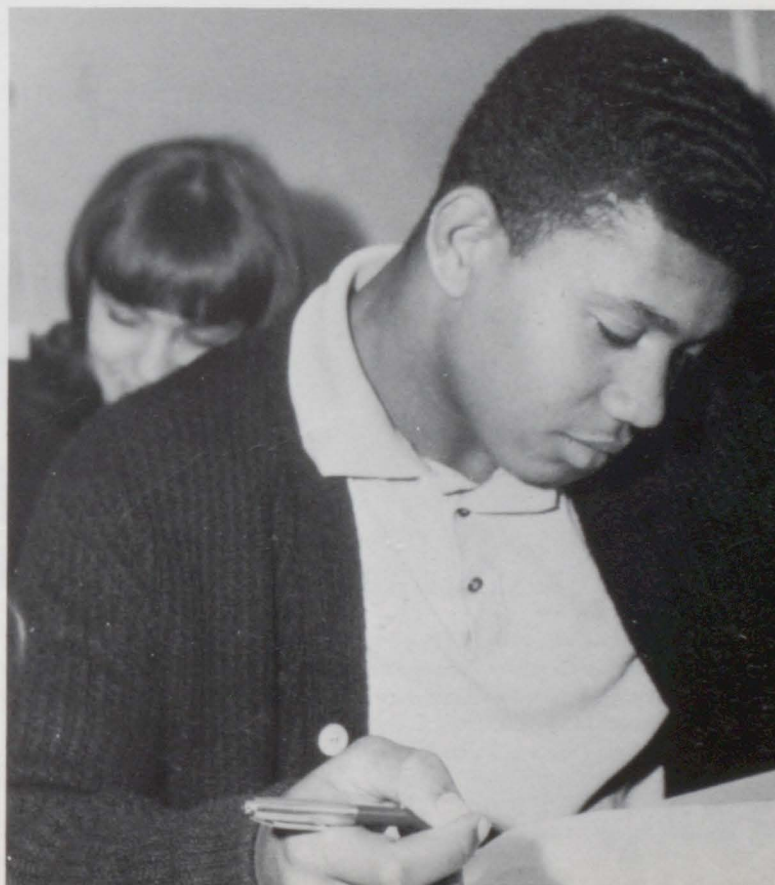

Linear algebra, normally a college course, was the newest course added to the math curriculum this year. The course included the study of vector spaces and linear transformation and matrixes derived from algebraic and geometric fundamentals.

Besides the new course, the regular curriculum pattern was followed. General math students studied graphs, charts arithmetic review. They also practiced using tables and measuring instruments.

Algebra students worked problems dealing with unknown quantities represented by symbols and letters. Two years of algebra were offered.

First semester geometry students examined the relations, properties, and measurement of lines, angles, and surfaces. Third semester students dealt with solid rather than plane surfaces.

An advanced course, trigonometry, gave students a chance to work with the measurement of angles and chords by applying them to the solution of problems concerning geometric figures.

Strengthen Our Youth

Physical education courses at Port Huron High School were required for one year. These classes were designed to fit the needs of the students.

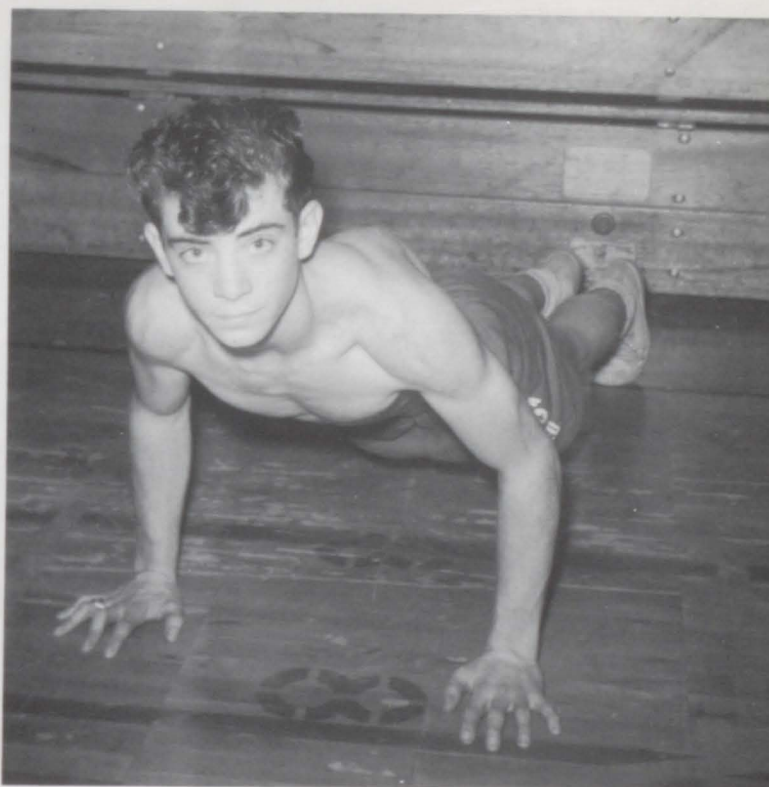

The girls gym classes started out the year well equipped with new balls, bats, birdies, deck tennis rings, hockey balls and sticks.

Once a week the girls did Swedish exercises to the tunes of such favorites as "Theme to a Summer Place," "Java," and "Moon River." Several new records were added this year.

Each six weeks period the classes were divided into recreational groups in which they played ping-pong, volley ball, deck tennis and badminton. The competition between the teams was quite keen.

The boys gym classes had a smiliar program geared to physical fitness and skill in sports of all kinds.

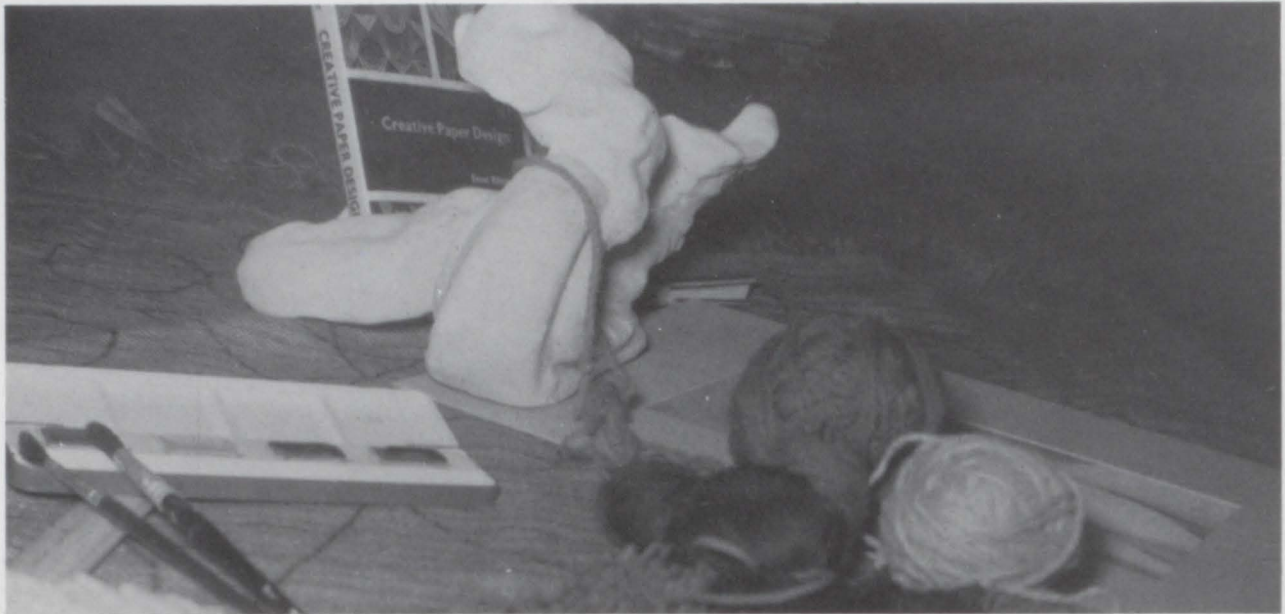

Each marking period the boys went to the field house for a week of special classes in which they learn sports skills, health instruction and physical fitness.

MR. MANDT ADDS an additional suggestion to the painting done by George Hoffman while Steve Jackson stands by to give his ideas too.

Art Courses

A new class was added to the curriculum, Fine Arts. One of the main activities in this class was analyzing paintings and other pieces of art. Analysis encouraged students to study in detail an artists's style and technique. Students also used magazines to complete their assignments. Such publications as "Art News" and "Art in America" provided "possible Picasso's" with current art criticism. To illustrate background for the course, movies on art history and art experimental films were shown.

Beginning and advanced art classes continued to provide many PHHS students with the opportunity to express themselves and their ideas through visual media. Beginning art classes spent much of their time learning to shape clay into various forms. Students pounded the clay so vigorously that the thudding sound was often heard down the hall.

Both beginning and advanced art students worked on painting and sculpturing. The advanced students were able to build on what they had learned the first year and thus could work in the areas that especially interested them.

Boys, Dads Enjoy PHHS

Fathers of shop students were guests at an open house sponsored by the Industrial Arts Department in November. Various shop teachers planned the event. Mr. Hobbs, chairman, explained the aims of the various industrial arts courses and the opportunities offered to the students in this field.

Pre-vocational experience was one of the main purposes of industrial arts. Various methods of presenting ideas and objects graphically were shown through assigned exercises and problems in Mechanical Drawing.

In General Shop, of which about 60 students were enrolled, the student familiarized himself with an industrial background. He worked one semester in metal shop, and one semester in machine shop. This helped the student to choose his vocational program later.

Science: A World of

To prepare students for the modern world of constant discovery, the science department added a new course to the curriculum and used several new textbooks.

The new course, Physical Science, was offered to a group of selected students. Miss Raub taught the class and used PHYSICAL SCIENCE FOR PROGRESS as the textbook. Primarily sophomores were in the class this year.

General Science students also used a new textbook to master the fundamentals of science. They studied the effect of scientific discoveries on the lives of people in daily life.

Another new textbook, MODERN CHEMISTRY, provided the basic material for the chemistry students. Laboratory work was also an important part of class work. Such topics as atomic structure, gases, elements, and molecular weights provided a challenge for students in their labs.

Wonder and Amazement

Biology classes were divided by subject matter each semester. Botany and zoology were studied for one semester each. Some of the particular topics covered during the year were cell structure, functions of organs, and human diseases.

Physics students examined the forces of motion through textbook assignments and labs. Pressure, heat, and gravity were studied in the course. Closely related to physics, electrical science gave students basic background in the study of electronics.

Earth science students took a closer look at the interior, outer crust, oceans, and atmosphere of this planet on which man lives.

After 30 Years, Band Sports New Uniforms

"They're here! Hurrah! Aren't they sharp!" These exclamations were heard from students and band members when their long-awaited uniforms arrived in November replacing the old ones worn by the band since the class of '37. Red jackets and black pants with the Big Reds symbol embroidered on the overlay were proudly shown off by the one hundred and twenty Honors Band members.

Another highlight of the year was the Spring Concert in which Beethoven's Fifth Symphony was performed by the Honors Band. The symphony was usually not attempted by high school bands because of its complexity.

THE STEP FROM Vice-President to President of the Honors Band is a natural one for Richard Everitt. He is an accomplished musician on the cornet.

and Community

The Choral Department had three performing groups, the A Capella Choir, Glee Club, and Festival Choir. The purpose of the A Capella Choir was to incorporate all fine points of choral techniques using masterpieces of music literature.

The Glee Club consisted only of girls. The girls attempted to develop their voices into a more rich and full sound with emphasis upon the head tone.

The Festival Choir also performed, however, the literature was more limited and a greater emphasis was placed upon producing tone and learning to read notes.

The choirs participated in the Christmas and Easter assemblies and have been practicing for the Baccalaureate exercises. They were in a Christmas concert just before Christmas. They also participated in the M.S.U.A. Choir Festival for A Capella and the Glee Club's which called for solos and ensembles.

Music Appreciation was a new course added this year. Students studied elements of music such as melody, harmony, rhythm and texture with their historical perspective in mind.

One hundred and sixteen members of the Senior Class have taken advantage of the opportunities which were offered to them by our CO-OP department. The students were able to get out "in the working world" and meet the public every morning or afternoon of the school week.

Working seniors were employed as messenger boys, secretaries, tellers in banks, and many other varieties of jobs.

A CO-OP paper which was edited by Robert Leslie and Thomas Spencer included articles of interest to the working student.

PHHS Honor Society Embodies High Ideals

Many responsibilities were placed in the hands of the National Honor Society. Some of these responsibilities were: to inform the student body of the educational opportunities, and to promote the desire for learning. The projects which carried these ideas through were: the sponsorship of the Honor Roll Contest, and a one-semester scholarship to Port Huron Junior College.

There were plenty of money-making projects, too. A few of these were: the sale of school stationery, dances, and bake sales. A charitable and very worthwhile project was, the Christmas party given for the underprivileged children in the Port Huron area.

Miss Raub, the club adviser, helped the Society in whatever they attempted.

Math Club Teaches Sliderule Techniques

One of the most challenging activities for the Math Club members was teaching any interested students the basic fundamental operations of a slide rule. This session was given every other night for a week and a half during the second marking period.

Money earned by working in the concession booths at the football games was used to buy new equipment for the Math Department of Port Huron High School. In February the club held a Valentine's Day dance to raise money to sponsor a math scholarship.

This spring the Juniors in the club held a picnic in honor of the graduating Senior members.

This club is a national charter member of Mu Alpha Theta, the official organization for students interested in mathematics at both high school and junior college levels.

HERE, GEORGINA GREENE and Kurt Richardson look over one of the many new mathematical devices added to the math department this year.

High Spirits and

THE SUCCESS OF the Pep Club this past year has been due to the organization of its leaders. Pep Club officers are: Aleta Day, President; John Pozdrowski, Vice-President; Elizabeth Edwards, Secretary; and James Walters, Treasurer.

THE SPIRIT AND enthusiasm shared by all of the members in Pep Club, was expressed by this participating sophomore, Stephen Richards, as he chants a cheer along with the cheerleaders and other members.

THE CHEERLEADERS ARE the most energetic people in our school. Here, they demonstrate their enthusiasm as they ring the Victory Bell for the time. The smiling faces easily describe the feeling of victory.

Enthusiasm Make Our Pep Club

Pep Club has been very active this past year in raising the spirit at PHHS. Many of the highlighted projects at PHHS were sponsored and carried through by Pep Club. Several of these projects were: The Faculty Follies, the hilarious basketball game between the faculty and the famous women players "The Shooting Stars", the placement of pep posters boosting the football and basketball teams to victory, and the spirited pep assemblies and rallies held during the day and after school on the date of the home game.

To make the student body even peppier than before, some new additions have been added to this club. The Victory Bell, the largest and heaviest addition of the year, was bought and then painted red and white in accordance with our school colors. During the year, the bell rang out our victories and raised our spirits to their very highest. The Pep Club Cart carried the bell during the entire sports season.

Extra special people with great capability for leadership were elected to guide the Pep Club along to a successful year. The most important addition, though, was the club's adviser, Mr. Robert Donaghue. His spirited personality and helpful guidance helped to make Pep Club one of the more outstanding clubs of 1966-67.

Congressman Speaks to Young Republicans

Affiliated with the State Central Committee of the Republican Party, the Young Republicans were able to receive more information than most other clubs about their purpose -- to understand the Republican views and support those views.

Rather than just receiving information, the Port Huron High School Young Republicans were more fortunate than other clubs of this kind. On November 3 James Harvey, United States Congressman, spoke to the interested students on the election in Michigan.

Miss LaVoy, the Club's sponsor, with the assistance of the club officers, helped the members of the Young Republicans to prepare for future political life.

THE YOUNG REPUBLICAN officers have kept the club well organized and running smoothly throughout the year. BOTTOM ROW: Mary Greene was the Secretary and Susan Thorton was President. TOP ROW: The Vice-president was Barbara Nelson, and Janet Nelson was Treasurer.

Future Teachers Visit Central Michigan

Future Teachers was an active group consisting of students interested in a teaching career. The club dues were used for various trips. On November 19, 1966, they toured Central Michigan University to visit campus buildings and see college life firsthand. The club gave a Christmas party for underprivileged children of Port Huron. They also held a dance after the December 16th basketball game. The F.T.A. sponsored its annual Teacher Appreciation Day on which they presented each faculty member with a carnation.

Everyday from four to six members of the Future Nurses Club volunteered their services at Port Huron Hospital. As candy strippers, they passed trays, fed patients, and gave them water trays. The hospital recognized the candy strippers at a Mother's Tea in May.

The Club toured Henry Ford Hospital on November 2. They saw a mock operation, an

Mrs. Jardner from Port Huron Hospital outlined the candy stripper program and gave tips on handling patients. The Future Nurses also made holiday decorations for patients at Marwood Manor.

Rifle Club Learns Techniques of Firearms

Located in a state where hunting is a popular sport among students, PHHS recognized the needs of these students. For the first time, Rifle Club, sponsored by Mr. Hobbs, was organized.

The Club taught beginners how to use a rifle. For those students who were more experienced, the Club offered opportunities to improve their skill and aim. The group also learned the different parts of the rifle and how each part works. Gun safety was also stressed to club members.

Rifle Club was affiliated with the Blue Water YMCA Rifle Club and the National Rifle Association. Practice shoots at the YMCA gave members a chance to improve their skill. Each member who completed the Basic Rifle Course received a bar to wear on his jacket sleeve.

As the organizers of a new club, the officers had a particularly challenging year. They wrote a constitution for the club which was then presented to the whole group for approval.

Parliamentary Law's Club Attends Model UN

Parliamentary Law's Club was one of the more "on the go" organizations at PHHS. During the past summer, 13 students were accompanied by Mr. Swegles, advisor, and his wife on a trip to Washington, D.C. The group drove to Washington where they spent several days sightseeing. Included in their tour of Washington legislative buildings was a visit with Representative James Harvey.

Within the state of Michigan this year, the Parliamentary Law's Club went to inspect the Mock Trials at the Universities of Detroit and Michigan.

The group also participated in MUNA (Model United Nations Assembly). At this meeting each participating school chose to represent a particular country in the assembly meeting. Club members looked up information and researched their country's attitudes and position in the UN. By the end of the two-day session, they were "experts" on the country they represented.

PHHS Debate Club Challenges Other Schools

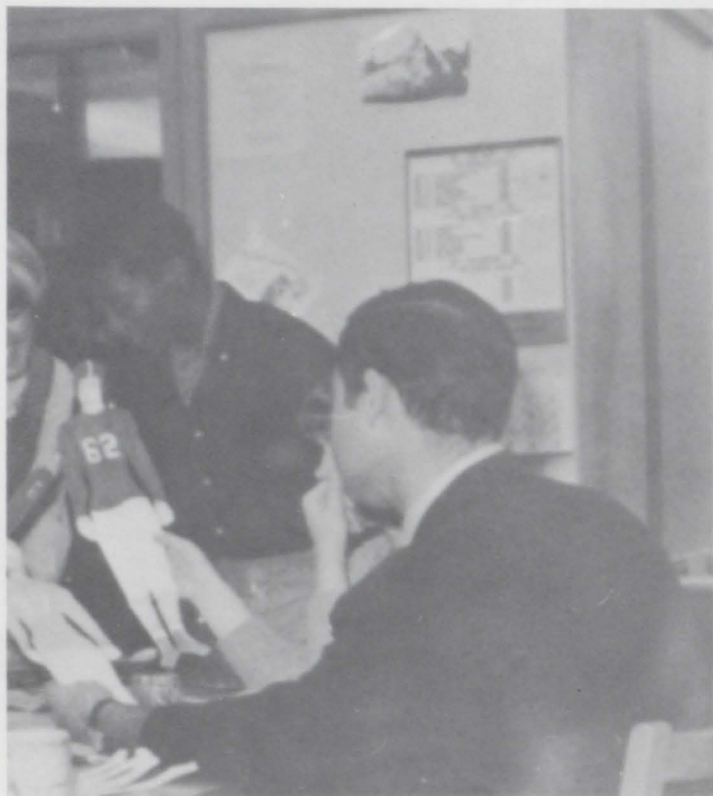

The Debate Club, sponsored by Mr. Lutz, is affiliated with the Michigan High School Forensic Association. This year the club participated in the District Forensics Contest. They also hosted a Debate Tournament that ten schools attended. In turn the Debate Club made many trips to other schools for Debate Tournaments. The club raised their own funds by sponsoring dances and having car washes. They used this money for traveling to other schools, paying their Association dues, and paying the judges. The topic for the 1966-67 school year was "That the Foreign Aid Program of the United States Should be Limited to Non-Military Assistance," which proved to be a very debatable subject. The debates were usually held after school on Monday nights. The club's eighteen members found the 1966-67 school year a challenging one for debaters.

Here, Forbes Johnson, Treasurer, demonstrates the art of debate while members of the club watch with interest. In a debate complete attention needs to be focused on the topic being discussed.

Art Club's Interests Extend Beyond Easel

MR. MANDT, THE Art Club sponsor, and Don King, President look satisfied with the decorations for the reunion banquet held at Northern High School.

During the past summer 13 Art Club members went on a five-day trip to Chicago. The groups visited the Chicago Institute of Art and the Museum of Science and Industry.

The first project after school opened was their float entry in the Homecoming parade. They won second place for their "Marriage of Victory" float.

Art Club members provided the decorations for the football reunion banquet at Port Huron Northern. Paper football players were designed to show the football uniforms of past years.

Officers were: Don King, president; Judy McClain, vice-president; Bonnie MacDonald, secretary; Pam Conger, treasurer.

The executive board was: Susan Kidd, Freshman; Connie Shook, Sophomore; Kathy Falk, Junior; Karen Hunt, Senior.

Mr. Mandt was the group's sponsor.

Science Club Enters Annual Science Fair

The Science Club participated in several activities this year. For example, Mr. Phillips, the club adviser, and members, took a tour through the Sewage Treatment Plant. This trip was so successful that the club planned other excursions similar to the first. A few of these trips included going to a local museum and other places of scientific interest.

The members of the Science Club prepared to enter exhibits in the Annual Science Fair held in the spring. They were encouraged to set up their own experimental laboratories. If any supplies for the experiments were needed, the Science Department supplied them with necessary equipment.

One of the more challenging assignments to the membership was the attack and dissection of a dog fish.

THE MEMBERS ARE busy working on their projects which they wish to enter in the Science Fair. Here, Patricia Fuller checks over her equipment.

Singingnest, Swingingnest Club Is Folk Club

After its second full year, the Folk Club has proved to be one of the livelier and more interesting clubs in PHHS. Originally started last year by Miss Meade, Miss Raub, and Mr. Mandt, the Folk Club consisted of students influenced by a coffee house downtown who wanted to learn to play and sing folk songs. This year Miss Findlay took over as club advisor aided by the officers: Jeffery Burns, President; Susan Fredericks, Vice President; Barbara Guske, Secretary; Maureen Heath, Treasurer.

This year the Folk Club met Tuesday nights in the school cafeteria at 7:30 to sing songs and play such instruments as banjos, guitars, jew harps, kazoos, and harmonicas. Also on their agenda was a musical interchange with Port Huron Northern Folk Club. Various folk songs and ideas were exchanged. Money collected from club dues helped to pay for trips to a Detroit coffee house and the Toronto Folk Festival.

DENNIESE POTVIN, ONE of the more instrumentally inclined Folk Club members, adds variety to the tone of the group with her banjo. Hmm . . . wonder what song she was playing.

PRESIDENT JEFF BURNS and Jean Schneider lead the members of the group in a foot-stamping, hand-slapping tune. You can tell by the looks on their faces that the sound is good and the atmosphere is lively.

CHESS PLAYERS TAKE over Room 129 on Thursday afternoon. Here, Marilyn Zimmer participates in this primarily boy's group.

New Chess Club Requires Quiet Concentration

Chess Club was organized for the first time this year. The club maintained a free and open atmosphere by inviting any student to come to play or learn to play chess. No dues were charged nor were officers elected.

Chess Club was probably the quietest group of all PHHS clubs. Members demanded silent concentration while they planned their own strategy or tried to anticipate their partner's next move.

Although dominated by boys, a few girls did join in the game of skill and concentration. The group sponsors, Mr. Dunbar and Mr. Rober-son, usually organized one meeting every week so that students could have regular opportunities to develop their skill.

ALL EYES FOCUS on the chess board and the hand that carefully makes the next calculated move.

Smile! You're on Photo Club's Camera

Although Photo Club was late in getting started this year, there were many active members who combined their talents to make this club one which was interesting and fun. Under the instruction of Mr. Leonard, the advisor of Photography Club, the students were taught how to operate various types of cameras. This enabled them to better understand their own equipment, as well as that of others. Every member brought their own cameras, put them on tripods, and then took pictures of other members who modeled for them. This procedure was carried on throughout the entire year to give the participants practice in taking portrait photographs. The members were also taught to develop their own pictures in the school darkroom.

The Photography Club had the privilege of going under the limelight at the "Shooting Stars" basketball game and taking pictures of the famous women players and our hardplaying faculty members.

As the club progressed it soon became evident that this organization was one which opened doors to great excitement and worthwhile experience.

BESIDES ADVISING THE Photo Club, Mr. Leonard uses his photographic skills to take pictures for the yearbook and to develop and print the photos.

Varsity Club Honors PHHS Letter Winners

Varsity Club was the only club in PHHS in which members were required to earn their membership. In order to join the club, students must have earned a letter in one of the following sports: cross country, track, football, baseball, tennis, swimming, basketball, wrestling, or golf.

Varsity Club sponsored various projects throughout the school year. The boys sold programs at the hockey games at McMorran Auditorium and sponsored a dance after one of the football games. They also sold ball-point pens with the 66-67 basketball schedule on them.

NANCY AMMERMAN: THE pride in seeing a well earned victory; the courage to withstand defeat.

JANET KRUPP: THE yelling at games and assemblies, participation both in class and activities and the wonderful feeling of knowing greatness.

BONNIE HALLAY: SPIRIT is being a good sport whether we win or lose. P.H.H.S. has this spirit and I'm proud of it.

PAM GODDARD: TO me school spirit symbolizes pep. The more pep you have the more school spirit you possess.

CHRISTENE WILLAN: AN inner enthusiasm for whatever a person happens to be doing and able to share it with others.

CAROL ANN MECHAN: TO have spirit gives me the satisfaction of wanting to cheer harder and lead our team to victory.

Varsity Cheerleaders Receive

In October, the cheerleaders sponsored a dance, The Puppy Pow Wow, after the reunion football game between Port Huron High School and Port Huron Northern High School. At this game the varsity cheerleaders wore their new sweaters.

Following a skit, "The Kidnapping of the Mighty Big Red," the cheerleaders presented the "Magic Football Cake," which was a symbol of victory, to captain Butch Limburg, who received it on behalf of the Varsity Team.

Another event was a cheerleading contest in Midland, Michigan. Every school in this division nominated a girl from their cheerleading squad to compete for cheerleading queen. Nancy Ammerman was selected to represent Port Huron High School.

This year the STUDENT asked the Varsity Cheerleaders, "What does school spirit mean to you." Beside each picture you have the cheerleaders' answers.

Head of Athletic Department Retires

Cecil V. Fowler, better known to Port Huron residents and local sports fans as "Brick", was a high school coach and athletic director here since 1929.

Mr. Fowler achieved an outstanding record as basketball and football coach and has been director of physical education and high school athletics in Port Huron since 1940.

His first coaching job was at St. Clair, where he became head athletic coach of St. Clair High School in 1926.

In 1928, his football squad won the state class "C" championship and his basketball team won 45 of 59 contests.

Mr. Fowler took over as head coach at PHHS in 1929. From 1929 to 1949, Mr. Fowler's football teams had a 65-18 record. He had one undefeated grid squad in 1937. His basketball teams won three district and eleven regional championships.

In 1940 Mr. Fowler became athletic director of PHHS. He gave up football coaching at that time, but remained as a basketball coach until 1946.

He has been a member of various policy making committees in connection with high school athletics for many years and was co-chairman of the stadium drive committee in 1945.

In addition to his other duties, Mr. Fowler was in charge of all city playgrounds during the summer months. He has been City Playground director since 1929.

She helped to organize the Blue Water Roundup which is held during the Blue Water Festival. Miss Teachout was responsible for Port Huron's position in the state-wide Girls Athletic Division.

Seniors spent their leisure time enjoying outdoor as well as indoor activities. Singing, laughing, or just plain goofing-off proved helpful in channeling their extra energy.

Showing their great Big Red spirit by claiming the Pep Jug nine out of eleven times during football, the "Mighty Seniors" made known to the rest of the student body that they were not about to be beaten in anything.

As their last year drew to a close, the Seniors displayed not only the joy of finally graduating but also sadness at the realization that high school frolic and fun could never again be relived.

On September 27, 1966, the Seniors nominated eleven girls to represent their class. SEATED: Janet Louks; BOTTOM ROW: Katherine Swainson, Nancy Ammerman, Catherine Ort, and Janet Krupp; TOP ROW: Dolores Thorton, Bonita Hallay, Bonnie Weiss, Paula Cochrane, Janet Ceglark, and Carolyn Morris. All these girls represented the true spirit and enthusiasm of our class as they helped to make this homecoming the best.

Seniors Experience Tragic Homecoming as

After various plans were submitted for the Senior float a drawing of a small train entitled "Train Em" was finally chosen and the work began. The Seniors worked nightly making flowers at different homes or constructing the float itself at Young's garage on Howard Street. Bonnie Hallay smiles approvingly at the final touch--our blue wildcat. "Victory Express" then became its new title and off it went to be judged.

The afternoon of homecoming finally came making the Seniors proud and confident as our "Victory Express" rolled into the parade line up. But as our pride and joy approached 18th and Union Streets the smokestack began to smoke and soon our express was ablaze. Luckily our driver, Mike Kelley, jumped to safety. There were tears and heartbreak on the face of Seniors as our finished product turned into a lonely black shell.

When the remainder of the parade reached the school the judges prepared to announce the prize floats. The tension and pain of each Senior was lessened when they received first place; you could see then that the tears were tears of joy.

"Victory Express" Burns

THE SENIOR CLASS wishes to thank Mrs. Jack Cochrane, Mr. Arthur Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Young, and all the other teachers and parents who contributed to the building of "Victory Express."

presents

DECEMBER 9th and 10th, 1966      8:00 P.M.
Henry McMorran Memorial Auditorium
Port Huron, Michigan

Faculty director Mr. Emlaw helped to make our Senior play a success by working long and hard hours.

This year Seniors accepted the responsibility of putting on a Senior play. After looking over many plays, Mr. Emlaw and the Steering Committee finally chose "The Night Is My Enemy" and hours of studying lines and rehearsing scenes began.

The setting for this particular play was a large summer home owned by Doctor and Mrs. Fontaine. The time: 1900's. The story centered around a series of strange happenings including two deaths; a former maid of the Fontaine's and a garden boy. The play was made even more dramatic by placing a blind girl Roanne in the midst of it all.

None of those Seniors who acted in the play or worked on any of the committees shall ever forget "The Night Is My Enemy".

Play Succeeds in Creating a Sensation

SENIOR NANCY AMMERMAN portrayed Roanne Shepperly, a blind girl in her early twenties. "I thought our play was the best ever. I love to act."

SENIOR MIKE KELLEY took the part of a young lawyer Gerald Clayton. "I thought the play was great. It was fun but a lot of hard work."

SENIOR ANNA MARIE GAUTHIER played Hester Fontaine, wife to Doctor Fontaine. "The play was one of the most successful accomplishments of our unexcelled Senior Class."

SENIOR ROGER DICKEY acted as Doctor Ora Fontaine who later proved to be the murderer. "The play was something every person should have the opportunity to act in."

SENIOR BECKY NUSKE placed herself in the part of Margaret Biller, the older woman servant. "After the play was over, I just wanted to start again."

SENIOR STEVE KENNEDY was chosen for the part of Hubert Biller, the man servant. "I thought it was a very exciting play."

SENIOR IRENE BOPP fit the part of a young German maid perfectly--mainly because she came from Germany. "The play showed how great our class is."

SENIOR STEVE LEWIS had the opportunity to try his skill at playing a retarded youth. "It was a challenge to play the part of Tommy."

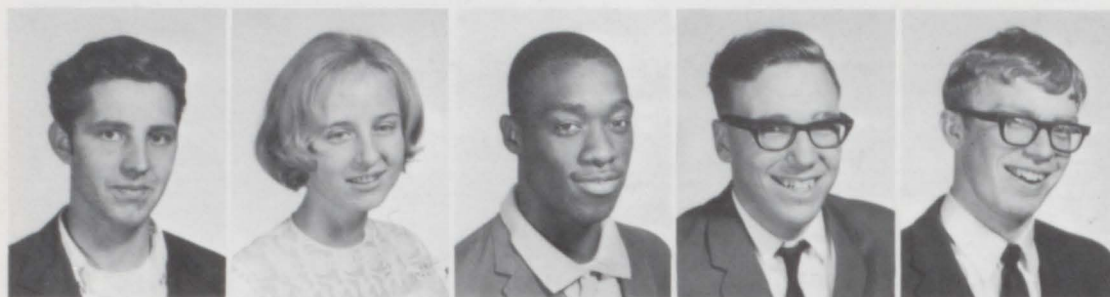

SENIOR MARILYN ZIMMER, playing the part of Augusta Garvey, spoke her lines well. "I thought it was a success but then I could be prejudiced."

SENIOR DAVE CARPENTER portrayed Rodney Church, an inspector from Scotland Yard. "I thought the play was a great experience and well worth the effort."

CO-SPONSORS

Mr. Belt

Mr. Boyse

President Matthew Cortese, starting guard for the varsity basketball team, displayed his Big Red sportsmanship as he fought to keep his opponents' score low.

Vice-president Elizabeth Edwards, also Secretary of Pep Club, served not only her class but the entire student body well as she joined in many worthwhile projects.

Secretary Laurie Kendrick, a varsity cheerleader, worked hard to raise Big Red spirit at the games and around school.

Treasurer David Herrick, also President of the National Honor Society, tried to better our academic level and to promote scholarship.

The doors of PHHS opened on that fall morning to admit the fresh, new class of 1967. This was the year Nancy Ammerman, Mike Kelley, Janet Krupp, and Laurie Kendrick led our class in the building of our first float "Hold the Nites" and our first money-making project "Twirp Dance". Shall we ever forget those days of innocence and youth?

Summer passed and with the return of fall came the reopening of school. As silly Sophomores led by Marilyn Yeager, Jane O'Sullivan, Janet Ceglarak, and Marjorie Kongas, we took third place with our float "Stomp the Wildcats." In the spring we held our "Swinging 67" dance. Shall we ever forget our year for growing up?

In the fall the Jolly Juniors returned to show the rest of the school which class was best. With leaders like Jeff Billins, Nancy Ammerman, Cathy Ort, and Matthew Cortese, it was not hard to take a first place with our float "Whale 'Em". As the year progressed so did we. We took victories in Powderpuff Game and the Tug-of-war. The year drew to a close as we presented our last Junior project "Moon Over Madrid." Shall we ever forget the fun and frolic of that year?

As Mighty Seniors, we re-entered the school willing to prove that we had lost none of our school spirit. Led by Matthew Cortese, Elizabeth Edwards, Laurie Kendrick, and David Herrick, we again took first place with our "Victory Express". We somehow survived the graduation exercises and attended our last high school dance--the Senior Prom which was held at Kenwick Terrace. Shall we ever forget this year of knowledge and college and job preparations?

Have Achieved"

SCHOOL ALMA MATER

Let us join our hearts together
As we pledge our loyalty,
And we'll look to Alma Mater
For hopes to cherish endlessly.
So fight, fight, fight for Alma Mater.
And show them with our might.

CHORUS:

Fight! Fight! Fight! Fight!
On to victory.
Fight! Fight! Fight! Fight!
Shall our watchward be.
So come and join our song for Port Huron High.
Champions now are we!
So fight, fight, fight for Alma Mater
And sing for victory.

RED-WHITE FIGHT SONG

In our hearts that are united
Our thoughts that never die,
We will keep in memory always
This our own Port Huron High.

Though the years ahead may number
More than those we've left behind,
Still the dreams will always linger
In our hearts, our lives, and our minds.

And may always we endeavor
To make achievements great,
So Port Huron may be proud
Of all those who graduate.

Come on and join our song for Port Huron High,
The best school in this land.

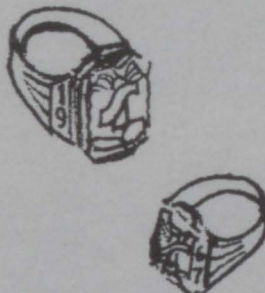

Grand and glorious we'll be victorious,
The Red and White shall stand.

Oh, she's the stronghold of our community,
She stands for all that's right!

FORGET-ME-NOTS: A symbol of undying memory. Forever in the sacred halls of PHHS, students and faculty will remember the class of 1967. With enthusiasm, it was this class that added such a great deal to our Big Red spirit.

CLASS PIN FOR 1967: a symbol that this class knows the value of freedom and education as the answer to many of their problems. The torch symbolizes liberty and freedom while the lamp is the answer to all things.

1967 CLASS RING: a symbol that our class lights the way for those that follow by setting down good rules and starting new traditions. Every Senior wore his ring to signify his pride in belonging to a great class.

BLUE AND SILVER: symbolic colors for 1967. Blue symbolizes the spirit our class showed in all it attempted while silver represents the faith we had in all outcomes whether they were bad or good.

Soon we shall separate; no longer can we strive forward as one class to plan, to build, to strengthen. The doors of the future lie open to us to enter and make of our lives what we shall. But before we leave, we must collect our memories for revival in later days. This page, therefore, has been reserved as a remembrance of our high school days.

Hard Work, Firm Leadership Lead Class of '68'

A HARD WORKING group of Juniors is their steering committee. BOTTOM ROW: Jean Armstrong, Irene Hofman, Paula Corry, Nancy Reed, and Sharon Kota. SECOND ROW: Frank Fenton, Judy Houston, John Dell, Janet Olson, Kandise

Under the firm leadership of Susan Szczepanski, President; Gary Martin, Treasurer; Joseph Heimbach, Vice-President; and Ruth Himes, Secretary; the Juniors, along with the guidance of their sponsor, Mr. Harrison, made successful plans not only for their second-place float but also for the traditional Junior Prom, held in honor of the Seniors. The Juniors started off their year right by being the first class to win the "Pep Jug" presented by the cheerleaders for the class that displayed the most pep at Pep Assemblies, Pep Club Meetings, or those who participated in supporting their team by going to the away games. Juniors, not only enthusiastic in participating in their own class activities, contributed to the prestige of our school this year by becoming part of our football, cross country, basketball, swim, and debate teams. Those members of the class of '68" who were not part of our teams also contributed to the school's honor by playing an active role in one or many of the vast number of clubs at PHHS or by being in the cast of the all school play.

MR. HARRISON, NOT only advises Juniors but he also offers advice to Seniors in his government classes.

Counselors Offer Advice in Many Fields

The counseling program at Port Huron High School was a vocational service. It was a service given in a professional capacity to anyone who wanted help or had a personal problem. The staff also gave occupational, educational, and social information.

Once a month they attended counselors' meetings in the Port Huron area. In the month of January they attended a meeting at Port Huron Northern and discussed Neighbor Youth Corps.

EASTERN MICHIGAN COLLEGE OF COMMERCE offers graduates of Port Huron and vicinity an opportunity to complete an approved business course ranging from 9-20 months without leaving the community. Graduates who have started commercial courses in high school may complete such courses in less than the scheduled period of time. Because of its proximity to the Blue Water District, courses may be complete without the expense of the board and room away from home.

THE STAFF AND ADMINISTRATION of the College join in wishing the graduates of the Port Huron High the best of every thing, and cordially invite them to join its student body if the best of business education is desired.
